I was expecting more.....much too short for the price.. I really like this loco in real and this was very good to have. Having gears gives you more feel for the loco so 10/10.. Acceptable. B-. This game is amazing! Such a fantastic idea, having someone on the PC as the waiter and the VR headset as the chef!

We had loads of fun! :)

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=46QwtA1DK44>. Thanks to ice_world I can now recomend this game since I found a way to change the countries. By right clicking on the flags you can choose who and what to play as. I will updt e this again once I have actually gotten some time in the game!. One of the best games I played. Okay, first, play the game before you buy the soundtrack. Personally, I found the "music", and I use that word loosely, totally annoying to the point that I said to myself, "if this doesn't get better, I'll play with speakers turned off." Secondly, when the game starts, I was wandering around aimlessly, and the devil was whispering repeatedly something intelligible and after wandering through the whole first floor\dungeon\basement, I saw two blobs that I guess were silhouettes, but I could not figure out how to interact with them or battle. I deleted the game from my hard drive\PC and marked the category as "don't like", so that when I get a new PC someday, I don't waste time downloading this again.. Worth the $0.64 I paid for it.. i can't see the text in the settings window on my 4k monitor

The game is in a deplorable state, the community is toxic as hell, people spamming the chat to make people lag, people EVERYWHERE I literally couldn't see anything in a town, almost no resources available after T4 because so much people are farming them.

Free-to-play killed it. land on an island, and keep the little bastards alive, thats about it, all the virtual villagers are the same, fun games but kinda slow going. Overall, this is a solid building game with some nice graphics, music and sound effects, along with solid gameplay.

I'd give it a solid 8/10.. This game is based on a 90s comic book. I haven't read the source material, but the game perfectly fits every stereotype of the Dark Age of comics. It's very grimdark, very serious and self-important, and very stupid. It has a lot of blood, sex and swearing, but has no idea how to use them either to have fun, or to tell a compelling story. It tries so hard to be mature that it comes off as the exact opposite of that. Your protagonist is a jerk and a moron who can't help but get into every trap the enemies set up for him. His only personality trait is that he's always moody because his girlfriend died (because of course she did).

The gameplay is dull -- a cross between corridor shooter and a cover shooter with no good mechanics or level design to support either play style. There are 4 types of weapons (pistols, light machine guns, heavy machine guns and shotguns), and different guns in the same category feel like the same gun, so there's not much variety. Your enemies are even more disappointing. It's a dark urban fantasy game with demons and black magic, so why are all the enemies just guys with guns? Well, there is a tiny bit of variation there: you have guys with shields, guys with whips who can take your weapons away, and teleporting guys, but that's it. The only interesting enemy is the projector guy who exploits your vulnerability to light. Most battles feel the same. Even in Hell itself, you're fighting flayed dudes with magic guns!

The Darkness powers feel like a cool idea, but in practice they aren't very useful. It feels like the developers were afraid to let the players have too much fun with the powers. The spells you get (both of them) work for a very small time and have huge cooldowns. Snake whips are only useful in close combat against one or two enemies -- with bigger groups melee works as well as it generally does in cover shooters. Executions are fun for the first 10 times, then they become old, and you notice how same are the enemies and how long are the animations. Throwing stuff at the enemies is pretty fun, though -- when the game gives you stuff to throw.

Vulnerability to light is the only mechanic that feels interesting and gives the gameplay variety, especially when the flashbangs and projectors start appearing. It makes you change your positions, find and destroy light sources, stay away from the lit parts while your enemies run there freely... These moments were legitimately fun.

Long story short, the gameplay is dull, the story is moronic, and the characters are douches. If you like the game's premise, do yourself a favor and play Shadow Warrior instead.. This is a great take on the classic Minesweeper. I enjoyed playing this game, but the only issue is that it made my computer hot fairly quickly, even on the lowest quality setting. Other than that, it definitely exceeded expectations for the price.. Trash game because: multiplayer full of bugs (bugged lobbies, AI taking control of my car) penalty system worthless and cancerous (they ram you away and you get a penalty) players in multiplayer stupid

do not buy this game

. Honestly... The game was great!!

(Level 10 is Awful!). The game took the idea of "Papers, Please" and innovated it in ways that I cannot even describe. The whole idea of making it 3d provides the most real experience possible. It also features casinos, clubs, and even a poorly developed road system that you are expected to drive on every day to work.

My favorite updates in ver 4.0 is hitchhikers, which provide more revenue, and the new system where food and heat has to be bought in the form of different consumables, and coal. This has to then be stored in the fridge and furnace before you can feed your family and keep them warm. Not very significant, but makes it a lot more realistic.

However, the game is badly optimized. My laptop, with an Intel core i7, 12 gb ram, and a Radeon 530, struggles to keep the game running at over 20 fps.

However, despite it's drawbacks, I would strongly encourage everyone to give this game a go. Especially if they have previously played Papers, Please, and really liked it.

. I have 4 fps in the menu.

. WOOOOOOO MAMA what a glo up boi. This lil puttlet was uggo as all hell my dudes but guess what? You better be watchin' who you bully in middle school cos this ♥♥♥♥♥ is thicc af these days and ALLLL MINE. Come to the park where the Fire happened in september, I'll be surprising him with a proposal!!!! Hopefully we'll be legally bonded by the end of the year! I love my sweet honey trunks soo very dearly it'd mean alot. Still dunno about that Firebird guy...seems like a bad influence....Sendin' him off in space OBVIOUSLY on purpose with no other words of advice then "Seatbelts!" He oughtta be ashamed of himself! Luckily my boi Putt0 made it in the end throuh his sheer kindness alone....

Best graphics so far they get me revved up yaknowwhatimsayyin
